

This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

- + Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
- + Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
- + Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
- + Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

P R E F A C E .

It has been the object of the compiler to embrace the greatest amount of matter relating to this State, in the smallest space. The type though small, is distinct and beautiful; and the arrangement such that particular names and subjects may easily be found.

The following are some peculiarities of the Register for 1848. The calendar pages are filled with notices of the times of holding the Courts; Annual Meetings of Banks, Insurance Companies, Ecclesiastical bodies, &c.; Commencements of Colleges; Annual Elections, and times of the meetings of the Legislatures of the States; Days observed by the Episcopal church; Time of the Sun's southing, &c.

The historical department embraces the original Constitution of Connecticut, of 1639; a complete list of Assistants, or members of the Upper House, from 1639 to 1819, with their places of residence; and the original Democratic Powers of Towns.

The politics, ages and occupations of the Executive Officers and Members of the Legislature are given.

The Attorneys at Law are included under the several counties, and placed first on the lists of Justices of the Peace in the several Towns.

The Towns of the State are all arranged alphabetically; and the Cities and Boroughs immediately follow the respective towns in which they are included. Besides more complete lists of town, city and borough officers, we have inserted the School Society Clerks and Treasurers, and acting School Visitors, which will be more complete another year.

The Militia returns are as complete as it is practicable to make them.

The date of the entrance of each Member of Congress into the House is specified.

It is the intension of the publishers to continue the Register; and from year to year, insert matter of permanent value; which will make it desirable for purchasers to have a complete file. The publishers can still supply the Register of 1847.

The Register for 1847 contained,—Annals of Connecticut from 1620 to 1821: The Patent of 1631: and the Charter of 1662: Lists of Governors, Deputy or Lieutenant Governors, Secretaries of State, Treasurers, and Comptrollers from 1639 to 1846: A complete history of the organization of Probate Courts: and Historical sketches of towns; the original Indian names, times of settlement and incorporation, &c.

All officers, institutions, &c., which change from year to year, will be annually inserted: others of a more permanent form will be occasionally given. For this reason, officers of some of the literary and benevolent institutions, &c., given in the Register of 1847, are not repeated in this.

Our thanks are due to Town Clerks and others, who have furnished materials to perfect the Register. Some of the returns are so illegible, that it is impossible to avoid some errors in Proper names. We must request particular attention to this subject in future.

COMMITTEE ON NORMAL SCHOOLS.

Messrs. John T. Norton, Farmington; William H. Russell, New Haven; Charles W. Rockwell, Norwich; Rev. E. Hall, Norwalk; Thomas Beckus, Killingly; Albert N. Baldwin, Litchfield Co.; Dr. Charles Woodward, Middletown; Loren P. Waldo, Tolland.

Original Constitution of Connecticut,

Adopted by the freemen in general meeting, Jan. 31, 1639.

“ This is the first example in history, of a WRITTEN CONSTITUTION, constituting a government, and defining its powers.” Bacon's Discourse on the Early Constitutional History of Connecticut.

The following is the only exact copy of this most remarkable of human productions. It formed the basis of the Charter of 1662*, and its leading features have been copied into the constitutions of the several states, and of the United States. Under this compact and the Charter, Connecticut continued almost an independent government, from 1639, through the Revolution, and onward, to the adoption of our present Constitution in 1818, the most democratic government ever constituted. The freemen at first assembled in a body, and elected their rulers; and afterwards sent in their votes. The towns have ever remained purely democratic, as they were originally constituted.

Forasmuch as it hath pleased the Almighty God, by the wise disposition of his diuynе prouidence, so to order and dispose of things, that we, the Inhabitants and Residents of Windsor, Hartford and Wethersfield, are now cohabiting and dwelling in and vpon the Riuer of Conectecotte and the Lands thereunto adioyneing: And well knowing where a people are gathered together, the word of god requires, that, to mayntayne the peace and vnion of such a people, there should be an orderly and decent

The towns aforesaid shall each of them provide a Ledger Book, with an index or alphabet unto the same; also shall choose one who shall be a Town Clerk or Register, who shall, before the General Court in April next, record every man's house and land already granted and measured out to him, with the bounds and quantity of the same, and whosoever shall neglect three months after notice given to bring in to the said Town Clerk or Register a note of his house and land, with the bounds and quantity of the same, by the nearest estimation, shall forfeit 10s., and so 10s. a month for every month he shall so neglect: The like to be done for all land hereafter granted and measured to any. And all bargains or mortgages of land whatsoever, shall be accounted of no value until they be recorded; for which entry, the Register shall receive 6d. for every parcel, delivering every owner a copy of the same under his hand, whereof 4d. shall be for himself, and 2d. for the Secretary of the Court; And the said Register, shall every General Court in April and September, deliver into the same a transcript fairly written of all such grants, bargains or engagements recorded by him in to Town Book, and the Secretary of the Court shall record it in a book fairly written, provided for that

Also the said Town Clerk shall have for every search of a parcel 1*d.*, and for every copy of a parcel 2*d.*, and a copy of the same under the hand of the said Register or Town Clerk and two of the men chosen to govern the town shall be a sufficient evidence to all that have the same.

But when any person dieth intestate, the said orderers of the affairs of the town shall cause an inventory to be taken, and then the public court may grant the administration of the goods and chattels, to the next of kin jointly or severally, and divide the estate to wife (if any be) children or kindred as in equity they shall see meet; and if no kindred be found, the Court to administer for the public good of the common [wealth] provided there be an inventory registered that if any of the kindred in future time appear, they may have justice and equity done unto them: And all charges that the Public Court, or the orderers of the affairs of the town are at about the trust committed to them, either for writing or otherwise, it is to be paid out of the estate.

Under the original constitution, the several towns were vested with the power of choosing their own magistrates, who were to hold a town court every two months. Appeals from the town courts were made to the General Court, a body annually chosen by the people. [See Original Constitution of Conn. page 18.]

TOWNS.

The Register for 1847 gave a historical sketch of each town, the original Indian names, time of settlement, incorporation, &c., and some account of the societies embraced in them. A more particular account of the several societies will be given in a future Register.

The population in 1840, and the amount of the deposit fund in each town, given in the Register for 1847, are not inserted in this, as they continue the same.

The Militia Law of 1847 requires the collectors of the State tax to enrol men between 18 and 35 ; and all who are not members of uniform Companies, may commute for military duty by paying one dollar a year. All uniform companies are required to do military duty three successive days, in Aug. Sept. or Oct. for which they are to receive not exceeding $1 50 per day, to be limited by the amount of commutation money and fines received.

The uniform companies in each county constitute a regiment. The regiments in Hartford, New London, Windham and Tolland counties constitute the first brigade ; and those of New Haven, Fairfield, Litchfield and Middlesex counties constitute the second brigade. These two brigades constitute one
